- More than 59 days out = 90 % refund

Alternatively, you can request a cancellation through the manage booking option under your booking details in My Account. All cancellation requests are confirmed in writing. If you do not receive a reply within a reasonable time, please resend your request to ensure it was received.

Insurance

We recommend all our customers to arrange for a dive accident insurance and we also strongly recommend to arrange for a comprehensive travel insurance to protect yourself against cancellations, flight delays, baggage loss and other unforeseen circumstances. We also strongly recommend that the policy include coverage for repatriation and emergency rescue, as this may be compulsory and such services can be costly if required during your trip.

As an intermediary we make a reservation on your behalf with the liveaboard Organizer. The Organizer is responsible for the proper execution of the LiveAboard Trip.

Guests with reduced mobility

This trip is generally not suitable for travelers with reduced mobility, for example due to age or health issues. Diving from a LiveAboard Trip requires sufficient mobility to safely enter and exit the water, handle equipment, and respond to conditions at sea. Good physical condition is important to minimize the risk of accidents. If you have concerns about mobility, please contact us before departure to ensure the trip is right for you.

Passports and visas

Please ensure that you and your Guest(s) have a passport valid for at least six months beyond the final day of your trip. Some countries may deny entry if your passport expires within six months of departure. Depending on nationalities of the group, you or your Guest(s) may require a visa to enter certain countries. It is your or your Guest(s) responsibility to obtain any required visas before departure. To check which visas are necessary, consult your and your Guest(s) own government's website or the official websites of the countries you will be visiting.

Please note that some visas can take up to six weeks to process. Don't delay. Note that visa validity often begins on the date of issue, not the date of entry. Always confirm the latest entry requirements with the relevant embassies before you travel, as policies may change.
